

Recipe for Disaster

Our sincerest apologies for Endico watercolors brief hiatus today.

We are taking the week off while Buggery Boss rapes then makes a buck off our high quality little hamlet.

This TV reality fiasco will be gone soon enough and we will still be here to reopen and wipe up their mess.

In the meantime our valued customers can reach us online to set up private viewings and be let through our back door for personal appointments.

Once again, sorry for the inconvenience and thanks again for helping us wade through another outsider intrusion.
